

Mallory hails from Newfoundland & Labrador, but is currently based in Toronto, Ontario. In 2015, she travelled to Nashville and Muscle Shoals where she recorded her debut album produced by multi-platinum artist Sammy Kershaw. Her debut single “Tupelo” skyrocketed to #6 on the Canadian Country iTunes chart, and the music video for that song was also aired on GAC and featured on CMT.com. Since that release, Mallory has been busy promoting and performing her music in both Canada and The United States. She completed her first US radio tour in 2016, was a featured songwriter in “Four Chords & The Truth” in Toronto, performed for the American Ambassador, and has shared the stage with artists like Alan Doyle, Dean Brody, The Sheepdogs, and Rascal Flatts. Mallory is also the winner of this year’s CCMA Spotlight Performance Contest, and will be performing during Country Music Week in Saskatoon this fall!
